

MANIFEST TRAIN SERVICE

A Reliable Way to Ship Food and Beverages across North America

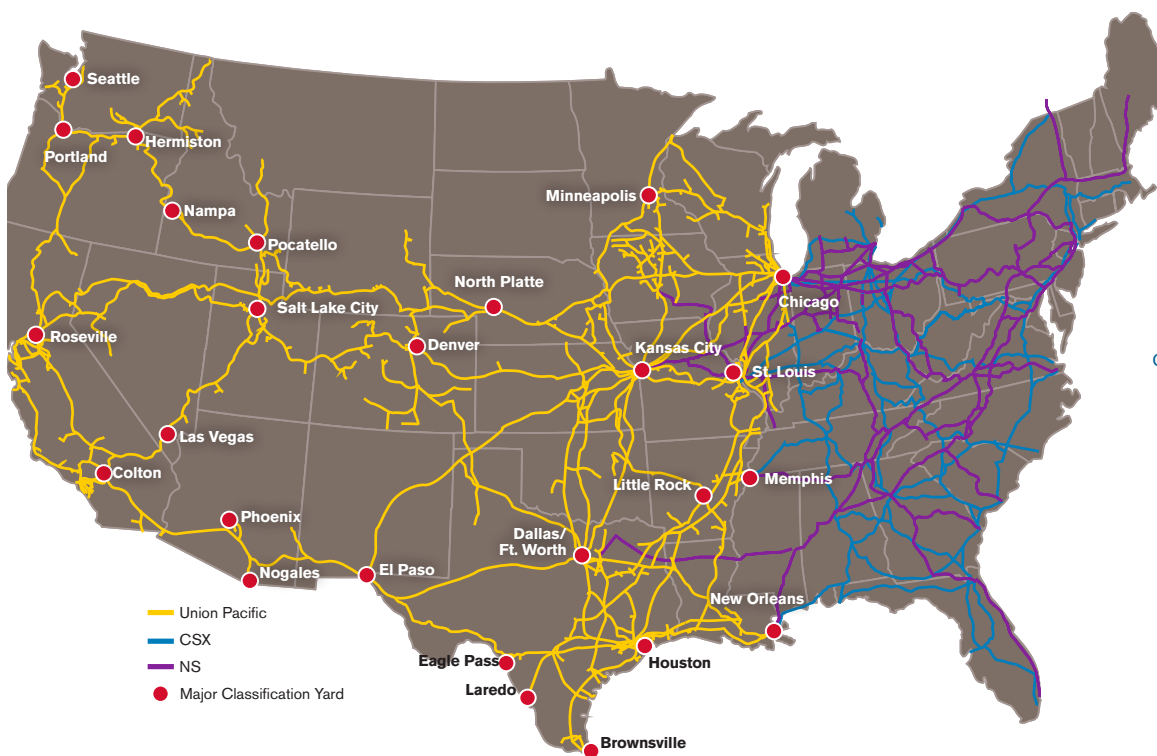

Through an extensive network of rail classification yards, terminals and connections with other railroads, manifest train service is an efficient, safe way to ship less time-sensitive food products from coast to coast. By consolidating a mix of rail car shipments from a wide variety of industries, manifest trains offer a more cost-competitive and environmentally responsible transportation solution, giving customers, both large and small, access to the benefits of rail.

Today, products that ship via manifest service include fresh and frozen goods, food grains, sugar, beverages, canned goods, tomato products, dry and packaged food and many others.

When you ship via Union Pacific's Manifest Train Service, you get:

- Access to more food shippers than any other railroad.
- Reliable rail service to key markets across North America.
- Access to an extensive fleet of covered hoppers, standard and insulated boxcars and GPS-monitored refrigerated boxcars.
- Access to a team of shipping experts to customize the best solutions for you, in addition to blocking and bracing assistance for load protection.
- Premium, value-added service options, such as transit monitoring, shipment management and problem resolution.

Union Pacific Manifest Rail Network and Major Classification Yards

Food Products Shipped by Union Pacific Manifest Service

Canned Goods and Tomato Products

Frozen Products

Rice, Sugar and Other Dry Goods

Brewers' Ingredients and Beverages

No rail? No problem.

Our logistics experts can customize a shipping solution to meet your unique shipping needs.

To learn more, visit www.up.com/food or send an email to upfoodnetwork@up.com.

