Union Pacific, the nation's largest railroad, and Loup Logistics, an innovator specializing in the design and execution of rail-based programs, have created a logistics solution tailored to meet the needs of the dynamic paper products market. We provide trusted rail solutions to and from paper mills, box plants, printers and other manufacturing facilities.

With an extensive rail network across 23 western states, six gateways into Mexico and interchanges with other Class I Railroads, the Union Pacific footprint encompasses all of the major population centers where paper demand is increasing.
