

It's not just forward motion. It's progress.

Union Pacific has been a part of the majestic Oregon landscape for more than 100 years. Throughout that time, trains have evolved to become the most environmentally responsible mode of ground freight transportation, moving one ton of freight 480 miles on a single gallon of fuel. This helps us preserve Oregon's beauty, as well as the entire American countryside. To find out more about our commitment to this great state and the opportunities ahead, visit UP.com/Oregon.

BUILDING AMERICA®

